

WHY CHOOSE DHG?

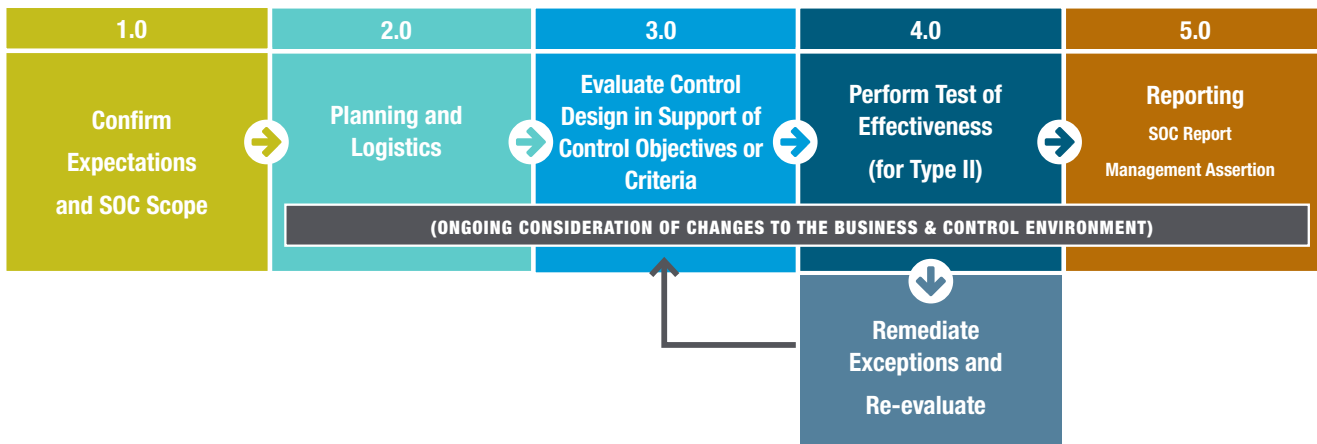

Our credentialed team is dedicated to providing quality client service and strives to build lasting business relationships.

assisting you with meeting customer reporting requirements

From IT operations to specialized technology and applications, many companies choose to outsource business processes to achieve cost savings, as well as maintain and protect their data. If this data were ever processed incorrectly, compromised or lost, the damage to the company, its customers and employees could be devastating.

WHAT WE DO

The DHG team performs System and Organization Controls (SOC) examinations for organizations of various sizes spanning across a number of industries. Whether to satisfy a company requirement or for assurance of the protection and proper maintenance of data, SOC examinations provide a thorough analysis of a service provider and their ability to maintain the security, availability, confidentiality and integrity of data.

WHO CAN BENEFIT

Companies that can benefit from SOC reporting include financial transaction processors, software vendors, third-party administrators, HR and benefits processors and application service providers.

WHY CHOOSE DHG

The professionals at DHG have years of SOC reporting experience and are knowledgeable in evaluating third party control environments, including the operating effectiveness of controls. Our credentialed team is dedicated to providing quality client service and strives to build lasting business relationships.
